

HSRA Awards 2023

Mid-Career Researcher Award

These awards are limited to individuals at the associate professor level in the disciplines of basic science, clinical science, population health, and health profession education.

Criteria:

- Significance of contribution(s) to the field
- Originality of the work
- Value of the work in shaping and furthering the field
- Productivity and Collaboration
- National and/or international recognition
- Contributions to the research environment of the University
- Contributions as mentor and colleague
- Those who received the award in last three years are not eligible to apply.

Nomination Requirements:

- Share the details in the google form