HSRA Awards 2023

Most publications in the year 2022 award:

This award aims to recognize the researcher with most publications (articles/ book chapters, books) in basic, clinical, population health and health professions education during the year 2022. The publications must be made in peer reviewed national or international journals with high impact factor, or in journals valued greatly in respective disciplines.

The publication must have been published between January 1, 2022, and December 31, 2022.

The publications will be scored on the importance of key issue/focus, advancement of knowledge in the field, new insights, and relevance to current issues in relevant discipline, impact factor/ recognition and origin (national and international) of the journal/ publishing agency.

Criteria:

- Significance of contribution(s) to the field
- Original research
- Value of the work in shaping and furthering the field
- Productivity & collaboration
- Contributions to the research environment of the University
- Publication should be in a PubMed indexed journals.

Nomination Requirements:

- Share the publication information in the google form with link to pdf of paper. Also, fill other applicable fields of the form.